

The myth of newTantalus

The myth of newTantalus is about the punishment of newTantalus by the Gods and it is associated with many other myths in Greek mythology referring to heroes, that were punished by the Gods for their behavior or crimes.

According to the myth, newTantalus was one of the residents of the deepest portion of the Underworld known as Tartarus, where most people were some sort of evildoers.

newTantalus was also punished with the so called eternal punishment, like newSisyphus, where he was condemned to stand in a lake with fruits, but without being able to satisfy his thirst or his hunger.
